

2008 Early Childhood Comprehensive Systems Partners Meeting

Building Comprehensive Systems and Strengthening Families through Partnerships with a Focus on Family Support and Early Childhood Mental Health

Agenda

The Radisson Plaza Lord Baltimore Hotel
20 West Baltimore Street
Baltimore Maryland

March 13-14, 2008

Meeting Objectives:

- To discuss how meeting participants and their many other partners can best work together at the federal, state, and community levels to develop partnerships that will help build and sustain comprehensive early childhood systems to meet the needs of all children and families
- To share promising practices and ideas for strengthening partnerships across health, mental health (including substance abuse), family support (including child welfare), parenting education, and early childhood education
- To obtain input from state and community partners on how Federal agencies can remove obstacles to collaboration and foster partnerships that help build stronger, more comprehensive systems that will improve outcomes for children and families.

Facilitator: Jean McIntosh, Center for the Study of Social Policy

Using a modified World Café process, meeting participants will craft recommendations for future partnership efforts. Participants will break into small group roundtable discussions to address the questions:

- What has enabled us to move forward with building stronger early childhood systems to this point?
- What needs to change for us to move further along toward our goal of creating a comprehensive early childhood system that strengthens families and results in children who are healthy and ready to learn when they start school?

The groups will have a chance to share their recommendations at the end of the roundtable discussions and those recommendations will be used to guide the work of a collaborative effort among Federal agencies to address the needs of the early childhood (ages 0-5) population.

3:20-3:30 Next Steps and Closing Remarks Calvert Room
